Understanding the Adolescent

April 10-12, 1967

Purpose of the Course

The purpose of the course is to increase understanding of the adolescent and to examine the role of the nurse in working with this age group.

Programme

The course is designed for nurses working with the adolescent in educational or work situations. Graduate nurses interested in this aspect of nursing are invited to submit application to a three-day refresher course. Registration will be limited to 100 and applications will be accepted on a first come, first served basis.

Content

The course will consist of lectures and discussions which will be held at the University of Toronto, School of Nursing.

The staff of the School of Nursing and members of other professional groups working with adolescents will examine the development and the particular needs of the adolescent. Emphasis will be placed on adult-adolescent relationships and some time will be devoted to discussion of counselling the adolescent.
